

Virginia Transformer brings more than 50 years of engineering and manufacturing expertise as the trusted transformer supplier for utilities across North and Central America. We serve municipalities, investor-owned utilities, and rural cooperatives with units up to 500 MVA for critical applications such as power generation facilities, power distribution substations and renewable energy projects.

Our fully customizable solutions include load tap changers, reconnectable voltages, tertiary windings, conservator tanks, nitrogen systems, three-phase regulators, zig-zag grounding, alternative fluids, and more.

With transformers designed for a 60-year lifespan and delivered with the shortest lead times in the industry, Virginia Transformer is the one-stop source for reliable power solutions for all utilities applications.
